

By Victor Burgos

Project 4 Report

For Project 4 I found this one really enjoyable! I liked grabbing the already made JavaScript and putting my own spin on making it more visually pleasing. I'm currently almost done with all the Zybook assignments, so this was quite a breeze but still fun to do. The JQuery learning curve wasn't that hard at all to me. I used Brackets again for my editor and it's for sure a very good and easy to use program. I used two different browsers to test my website: Google Chrome and Microsoft Edge. Both browsers displayed it just fine with no issues at all and then I validated my HTML5 code using <https://validator.w3.org/> and I added my Bootstrap from <https://www.bootstrapcdn.com/>. In the end, this project was really easy and with the semester almost ending I'm really happy with everything I've learned in this class. Web Development is a really cool and interesting field and I'm glad to have learned about it.